Super Cannes Jg Ballard

"Super-Cannes" seems to be a reboot of Ballard's previous novel, "Cocaine Nights". When I finished it, I re-read my review of "Cocaine Nights" and was surprised at how much of it could be applied equally to this work, with only minimal adjustment. "CN" is set in an expatriate community on the Spanish coast of the Mediterranean.

Like most of Ballard's work, Super-Cannes is structured like a series of Surrealist paintings. Ballard has always been explicit in acknowledging the profound impact Surrealism has had on him and his work. The plot and story emerge from the connections created by the succession of surreal images.

Review | Super-Cannes by J.G. Ballard

“Super-Cannes” is both a novel of ideas and a compelling thriller that will keep you turning the pages to the shocking denouement. Only Ballard could have produced it’ Sunday Express ‘In this tautly paced thriller he brilliantly details how man’s darker side derails a vast experiment in living, and shows the dangers of a near-future in which going mad is the only way of staying sane’ Daily Mail
